T W E L V E M O N T H S F E E D I N G: Bynow, hopefully your child is eating his her meals from the table with the rest of the family and is completely off the bottle. If not these goals certainly should be accomplished in the next three months. Your child may have whole milk, and should be taking no more than 20 ounces of milk per day. Many children at one year of age become picky eaters or have a decrease in appetite as their rate of growth slows. If your child refuses...
